

JNR Blown coach & Observation (Suha & Maite)

Suha Coach(KIT)

The first steel passenger car manufactured by JNR after World War II was the Suha, while the Maite was an observation car manufactured before the war, equipped with a kitchen and air conditioning. These observation cars are also famous for being used as exclusive vehicles for the Allied occupation forces (mainly American officers) after Japan's defeat in the war.

Maite Observation(RTR)

